OIG Background and Mission
Inspector General Act of 1978

“... promote economy, efficiency and effectiveness ... [and] prevent and detect fraud and abuse ...” in Department of Education programs and operations
The Office of Inspector General (OIG) is an independent component of the Department. We examine allegations of fraud, waste, and abuse, and pursue those who seek to enrich themselves by abusing Department programs at the expense of our nation’s taxpayers.
OIG Operational Components

Immediate Office

Audit Services

Technology Services

Legal Services

Management Services

Investigation Services
Investigation Services

• Federal law enforcement officers who receive extensive training in criminal and civil law

• Conduct criminal, civil and administrative investigations covering a wide range of wrongdoing including Federal student aid fraud, diploma mill schemes, fraud and corruption in after school programs, and grand and contract fraud

• Coordinates with other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies and also federal prosecutors at the U.S. Department of Justice

• Operates the OIG Hotline

• Works with the Department to develop appropriate enforcement actions and recommend fixes to Department programs vulnerable to fraud

• Conduct outreach and provide fraud briefings on how to identify fraud
Differences Between OIG and FSA PROGRAM COMPLIANCE

OIG INVESTIGATION SERVICES
- Investigates any fraud impacting Department programs or operations
- Works with federal and state prosecutors to take criminal and civil actions
- Criminal investigators have statutory law enforcement authority to carry firearms and execute search and arrest warrants
- Operates independently of the Department in exercising its investigative authority

FSA PROGRAM COMPLIANCE
- Conducts compliance reviews, administrative investigations of violations of HEA
- Takes administrative actions authorized by the HEA and program regulations
- Has program operating responsibilities
- Is required to send allegations of fraud to OIG
OIG and FSA Coordination

OIG assists the Department in promoting the integrity of the Title IV programs.

• Issues Management Information Reports to alert the Department about serious fraud and corruption trends
  • Distance Education Fraud Ring Report
    • Dear Colleague Letter – Fraud in Postsecondary Distance Education Programs
    • OIG Audit – Additional Safeguards Are Needed to Help Mitigate the Risks That Are Unique to the Distance Education Environment
  • PIN Security Vulnerabilities Report

• Reviews and comments on all regulations with suggestions on areas for improvement

• Regularly exchanges information with FSA to identify current issues in compliance and abuse, and coordinates oversight and investigatory activities, when appropriate
Why Title IV Institutions are Targets
What is Fraud?

A deliberate distortion of the truth in an attempt to obtain something of value.

-or-

Lying and cheating.
Why Are You a Target for Fraud?

BECAUSE YOU HAVE WHAT CRIMINALS WANT!

- $$$ MONEY $$$ - You are a financial institution that handles millions of dollars every year.
- Your “customers” do not typically consider the fraud threat.
- You have network resources and sensitive student and financial data that are of interest to commercial entities, insiders, hackers, terrorists, etc.
- Your infrastructure may not be configured for fraud detection, prevention, and deterrence. ID Theft Resource Center reports that in 2022, there were 1,802 breaches of over 422 million records! Of these breaches, 118 were in the education sector.
You play a critical role in helping us achieve our mission by serving as the OIG’s “eyes and ears” to help us detect and prevent fraud.
Fraud Risk Indicators

- One person in control
- No separation of duties
- Lack of internal controls / ignoring controls
- No prior audits / Repeat audit findings
- Financial records not reconciled
- High turnover of personnel
- Unexplained entries in records
- Unusually large amounts of cash payments
- Inadequate or missing documentation
- Altered records
- Unauthorized transactions
- Related party transactions

Fraud Triangle

- Opportunity
  - Weak controls
  - Little or no oversight
  - Lax rules

- Motivation
  - Debt
  - Addictions
  - Status
  - Greed

- Rationalization
  - Everyone does it.
  - I was only borrowing the money.
  - I was underpaid and deserve it.
Types of Fraudulent Activity

Fraud Committed by Students
• FAFSA Fraud
  • Social Security Number
  • Alien Registration Status
  • Dependency Status
  • Income and Assets
  • Number of Family Members in College
• Identity Theft
• Falsification of Documents
• Distance Education Schemes

Fraud Committed by School Officials, Contractors, Grant Recipients, etc.
• Ghost Students
• Theft/Embezzlement
• Obstruction of a Federal Audit or Program Review
• 90/10 Rule Manipulation
• Compromise of system privileges or compromise of protected information
• Unauthorized or exceeding authorized access of IT systems or protected data
Statutory and Regulatory Access to Records

• Under the Department’s regulations at 34 CFR 668.24(f), an institution that participates in any Title IV, HEA program and the institution’s third-party servicer, if any, must cooperate with the Department of Education’s IG, in the conduct of audits, investigations, program reviews, or other reviews authorized by law. Cooperation include access to records and personnel for interview.

• The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) requires schools receiving funding from the Department of Education to protect the privacy of student education records. In many cases consent must be received from a parent or student before records can be disclosed.

• FERPA also provides that consent is not required in order to disclose student records to the OIG. The regulations state that representatives of the Secretary, which include OIG, may have access without prior consent in connection with an audit, evaluation, or enforcement of legal requirements related to the Department’s programs, or to enforce the terms and conditions of student aid.
Criminal and Civil Remedies Used by OIG

CRIMINAL

Education Fraud
20 U.S.C. § 1097 (a)

- Any person who knowingly and willfully embezzles, misapplies, steals, obtains by fraud, false statement, or forgery, or fails to refund any funds, assets, or property provided or insured under Title IV of the HEA, or anyone who attempts to perform the above actions

- Persons convicted of a felony shall be fined not more than $20,000 or imprisoned for not more than 5 years, or both

- Attempt is defined as, “an undertaking to do an act that entails more than mere preparation but does not result in the successful completion of the act”

CIVIL

Civil False Claims Act
31 U.S.C. § 3729

- Knowingly presents, or causes to be presented, to the United States Government a false or fraudulent claim for payment or approval (no proof of specific intent to defraud is required)

- …or makes, uses, or causes to be made or used, a false record or statement to get a false or fraudulent claim paid or to conceal, avoid, or decrease an obligation to the Government

- Burden of Proof – “Preponderance of the Evidence” (More likely than not)

- Specific Intent to Defraud the Government not required

- Liable for Civil Penalties of between $10K and $20K per count plus 3 times the amount of actual damages
External Fraud
Distance Education Fraud Ring

- Referral from Pikes Peak Community College in Colorado Springs, CO
- Approximately 183 applications containing names of inmates were submitted for Federal Student Aid at several community colleges in Colorado and Arizona
- Scheme involved 4 individuals conspiring to defraud the U.S. Department of Education by submitting false claims for federal student aid using stolen identities of prison inmates
- These four co-conspirators were able to carry out the scheme by visiting various Department of Corrections websites to obtain inmate’s names and dates of birth. With this information, one of the defendants used her employment at a bank to obtain an inmate’s social security number.
- Stolen inmate identities were from Arizona, Colorado, Florida, Illinois, and Ohio.
Fraud Ring continued..

- These individuals were indicted by a federal grand jury and three of the four defendants pled guilty. One of the defendants was convicted at trial in US District Court in Colorado.
- All defendants were sentenced to prison.
- The defendants were ordered to pay $563,890.85 in restitution.
- This case was solved through the collaborative efforts of the OIG and financial aid school officials!
Debt Relief Fraud

• A company called Student Loan Relief Department (SLRD) allegedly lured borrowers through advertisements on Facebook to reduce their debt.

• SLRD allegedly obtained and used PII from student borrowers responding to the ads to gain access to FSA’s student loan portal.

• SLRD allegedly advised borrowers that they qualified for a debt relief program and enticed them to take out high-interest loans to pay the company a fee up to $1,300 for their services.

• The services SLRD offered, including loan deferment and income-driven repayment programs, are already available to the students through ED free of charge.

• In March 2020, five SLRD officials, including the chief executive officer, chief financial officer, and general manager were arrested in a 20-count indictment for allegedly preying on student loan borrowers.
Network Intrusion

• A University of Nebraska student gained unauthorized access to the University’s computer system and stole the academic profiles of 650k students. The student was allegedly attempting to change his recorded grades.

• TCD, FBI and the University Police investigated and seized the student’s personal computers via search warrant.

• TCD forensic exam revealed the student had performed reconnaissance from outside and inside the University’s networks.

• By comparing this data with logs from the university, investigators were able to compile a comprehensive timeline of the student’s actions to prove the student committed the crime.

• The student, who was convicted of violating 18 U.S.C. 1030 (fraud and related activity in connection with computers), was sentenced to one year confinement and fined $107,000.
Internal Fraud
Civil Investigation (Qui Tam)

- A qui tam was filed in the District of South Carolina alleging that North Greenville University (NGU), Oral Roberts University (ORU), and San Diego Christian College (SDCC) each violated Department’s ban on incentive compensation.

- The OIG and USDOJ investigation determined the schools used Federal funds to pay vendor commissions, bonuses, and/or incentive payments for recruiting students for enrollment.

- As a result of the investigation, the USDOJ reached civil settlements with the schools.

- The settlement required the following payments:
  - NGU agreed to pay $2.5M to FSA
  - ORU agreed to pay $303,502 to FSA
Financial Aid Officer

• The School Board of Manatee County, Office of Professional Standards (OPS), conducted an internal investigation concerning fraud allegations at Manatee Technical College (MTC).

• Daisy Gulsby, a financial aid officer at Manatee Technical College (MTC), a postsecondary school in Bradenton, Florida, devised a fraudulent scheme to obtain Pell Grant credit balances and convert the funds for personal benefit.

• Over a period of years, convinced numerous students to return excess Pell Grant funds via money orders that they would alter to deposit into their personal bank account. They received and deposited the forged money orders into her bank account, stealing over $200,000 from MTC students.

• On February 1, 2022, Gulsby was charged in a five-count indictment in the U.S. District Court, Middle District of Florida, with Theft of Government Funds.

• Following a guilty plea, Gulsby was sentenced to 14 months in Federal prison and three years of supervised release.

• Was also ordered to pay $181,000.00 in restitution and an order of forfeiture was imposed against her in the amount of $227,164.65.
Campus Director

• Erica Montgomery (a tax preparer) recruited students from Florida and the southern United States to enroll at Troy University and Apex School of Theology to fraudulently obtain student aid funds.

• Montgomery and co-conspirators Sandra Anderson (Anderson), APEX Campus Director, Columbus, GA; Kristina Parker (Parker), Assistant to the APEX Campus Director; Dorothy Webb (Webb), Leo Thomas (L Thomas) and Yolanda Thomas (Y Thomas), former APEX instructors, recruited and impersonated students, and completed their homework for the sole purpose of receiving federal student aid funds for personal enrichment. The loss to the U.S. Department of Education was estimated to be $12 million.

• On October 15, 2020, a federal grand jury in the U.S. District Court, Middle District of Georgia, indicted Anderson, Montgomery, Parker, Webb, L Thomas, and Y Thomas on Conspiracy, Mail Fraud, Financial Aid Fraud, and Money Laundering charges.

• On December 15, 2022, after pleading guilty, all defendants were sentenced to imprisonment ranging from 36 to 108 months, followed by three years of supervised release.

• The court also ordered all defendants to pay, jointly and severally, $11,821.22 in restitution to the United States Department of Education.
Emerging Fraud and Threats
COVID Relief

- $280 billion to ED to assist States, school districts, and institutions of higher education in meeting the needs of those impacted by the coronavirus epidemic: Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act (CARES Act)-March 2020, the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2021- Coronovirus Response and Relief Supplemental Appropriations Act-December 2020, and the American Rescue Plan-March 2021.
The funds include $76.2 billion in Higher Education Emergency Relief Funds (HEERF)

- Purpose of the funds: to assist students and Institutions of Higher Education impacted by the coronavirus pandemic.

BUT. Fraud is afoot!

- Distance education fraud rings due to increased online education
- Incentive compensation violations due to more aggressive marketing to enroll students
- Procurement fraud – lack of internal controls creates opportunities for fraud
- Theft and embezzlement - increased purchasing of equipment for distance learning) without proper internal controls
- Public corruption - public officials taking advantage of the COVID-19 crisis to engage in fraudulent or otherwise illegal schemes
Third Party Debt Relief Companies

HOW TO SPOT A

STUDENT LOAN SCAM

- They make you pay up-front fees (which is illegal).
- They charge monthly fees.
- They promise immediate, total loan forgiveness.
- They ask for your FSA ID (username and password).
- They ask you to sign and submit a written agreement giving them permission to make loan decisions on your behalf.
- They claim their offer is limited, so you must “act now!”
- Their ads, emails, and communications contain spelling or grammatical errors.

Pathways to Success
Best Practices

• Conduct a fraud risk assessment and assess potential threats
• Create a plan to mitigate risks and to evaluate potential fraud
• Coordinate with IT departments to identify
  • Common addresses (including IP and email)
  • Common bank accounts
  • Common passwords and challenge questions,
  • Anomalous geographic locations
• Participate in information sharing with other schools
• Require two-factor authentication to improve security of student accounts
• Formalize a process for reporting potential fraud, waste, and abuse to OIG
Your Role in Preventing and Detecting Fraud

• Review documents thoroughly, question/verify authenticity, and request additional information

• Ensure that staff receive necessary Title IV training

• Stay current on alerts and communication from Federal Student Aid

• Stay current on types of fraud affecting Title IV schools by signing up for the OIG’s free Notification Service, and follow us on Facebook and Twitter

• Cooperate with the OIG in connection with an audit or investigation. Don’t “tip off” subjects of actual or pending investigation, continue normal course of business unless otherwise directed

• Contact the OIG if you suspect fraud
Why Report Fraud to OIG?

- Meet statutory and regulatory requirements
- Comply with ethical responsibility
- Deter others from committing fraud and abuse
- Protect the integrity of the Title IV Programs
- Avoid being part of a fraud scheme
- Avoid administrative, civil and criminal penalties

To participate in any Title IV program:
- Schools must develop and apply “an adequate system to identify and resolve discrepancies in the information that the institution receives from different sources with respect to a student’s application for financial aid under Title IV.” 34 C.F.R. § 668.16(f).
- Schools and their third party servicers must refer to the OIG “any credible information” indicating that a student, school employee, school, third party servicer, or other agent of the school “may have engaged” in fraud, criminal or other illegal conduct, misrepresentation, conversion, or breach of fiduciary duty involving Title IV. 34 C.F.R. §§ 668.16(g) and 668.25(c)(2).
